Expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that the Director of National Intelligence should establish and oversee the implementation of a uniform, multi-level security clearance system across the intelligence community to fully leverage the cultural and linguistic skills of subject matter experts and others proficient in foreign languages critical to national security.

Whereas the security clearance process of the Federal Government often results in undue delay in hiring intelligence community personnel with needed skills and expertise;

Whereas many individuals possessing cultural knowledge and linguistic skills critical to the national security of the United States do not need to be cleared at the highest clearance level;

Whereas the President should ensure the prompt implementation of the security clearance enhancement provisions contained in the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004; and

Whereas the prompt implementation of a uniform, multi-level security clearance system across the intelligence community would greatly enhance the ability of the intelligence community to carry out its mission: Now, therefore, be it

 2   should promptly establish and oversee the implementation
 3   of a uniform, multi-level security clearance system across 4   the intelligence community to fully leverage the cultural 5   and linguistic skills of subject matter experts and individ-
